Northern Pacific Railroad.

Our people are only less interested in the success of the above named project than they are in the onward march of the Union Pacific Railroad on the central line. For the completion of the "Northern Pacific"—as well as of the Southern Pacific Railroad—will have a decided tendency to reduce trans-continental railroad fares, both for through and for the way passengers. The Montana Herald for the 3d of this month contains an editorial article in which positive assurance is given that the work is virtually "in hand." It says:

"The late reorganization of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company—whereby the most powerful association capitalists ever united upon one great work was successfully consummated—can but give the world the most unqualified and undoubted assurance of the speedy advancement of the grand project of connecting the great chain of Lakes leading inland from the Atlantic, and the mighty Mississippi, with Puget Sound leading inland from the Pacific."

And adds,

"We are not only confident in our own inevitable conclusions, but we are now in the receipt of fully credited advices from the east, which assure us without reserve, that desired Congressional aid heretofore asked of Congress will be promptly granted at its next session, to the unanimous demand of the Northwest and the mighty influences of the new company; so that the Northern Pacific Road will be put immediately thereafter under course of construction."

It has been more than intimated that one or both of our Senators will, in the interest of the Dutch Flat Company, oppose such subsidy as is expected for the Northern Pacific; but we do not believe that will be so, as we are confident that in that event they would be in a small minority, with a record on the matter very distasteful to the people of Nevada.

Some of the "advantages" of the Northern Pacific route, are these depicted by the Helena Herald:

"We have in former articles mentioned as a conspicuous advantage of the Northern route, the fact that the St. Lawrence and its lake expansions supply an uninterrupted channel of water transit half-way across the continent, or 1,733 miles against 3,600 miles of rail on the Central route, which is unbroken by a navigable lake or river from its Atlantic to its Pacific terminus. To this we must connect the magnificent chain of navigable waters which flow down the Eastern and Western slopes of the Rocky Mountains directly upon the path of the Northern Pacific Railway.

West of the mountains, and forming the boundary between Oregon and Washington, the Columbia—"larger than the Danube, and equal to the Ganges"—is navigated by steamers as well as sailing vessels a distance of 400 miles from its mouth, while on Clark's Fork and Pend d'Oreille Lake there is also perfect navigation for 100 miles."

Those who have read Thomas Francis Meagher's article in the October Harper will remember in this connection his description of the Lake and Fork above alluded to—which form very useful navigation helps to a journey "cross by the Northern route."

The route of the Northern Pacific is thus in part described by the Herald of the 3d:

This new Company have selected and determined upon as their route for the construction of the road: To follow up the Yellowstone Valley, along the dividing plateau or between that stream and the Missouri; and thence to cross the Yellowstone range through Bozeman's or Bridger's Pass, into the fertile and already populous valley of the Gallatin; thence to cross and follow up the Jefferson river through the only natural pass, or valley, of the "Big Hole," through the main range of the Rocky Mountains; and thence down the Deer Lodge, Hell Gate and Missoula, on to the plains of the Columbia across to Puget Sound—compassing and penetrating all the way the richest mineral, as well as the most productive agricultural, regions lying anywhere between the two great oceans. The Missouri can be practicably navigated as high up as the three forks; or the Yellowstone can be navigated by a good class of steamers, at least to the mouth of the Big Horn; which, taken together with the water transit via the Columbia and its auxilliaries, would furnish about 1,200 miles of navigation directly upon the route of the Northern Pacific. By the construction, then, of 380 miles of railway from St. Cloud to the Great Bend of the Missouri, and, say 550 miles, between the navigable heads of the Missouri and the Columbia, we have a continuous line of interoceanic communications of vaster moment than can possibly obtain to any other route contemplated or begun, as an artery of commerce across the continent.

The building of this road will be simultaneously begun at four or five different points between Puget Sound and Lake Superior, close on the opening of next spring. But meanwhile, pending the completion of these railroad connections, the company propose to organize a thorough system of wagon, stage and boat transportation, over the whole route, from St. Cloud and the head of Lake Superior, to Montana, Idaho and the Pacific coast.—Gold Hill News, Oct. 14.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY.—We find the following particulars of a shooting affair, with a fatal termination, in the Shasta Cal. Courier of October 14th:

A few months ago we published an account of the death of Mrs. Hudson and four children, who perished in the flames of a burning building at Shingletown, in this county. The husband of the woman and father of the children appears to be but little affected by the appalling manner of their death, and since that time has conducted himself in a style that plainly showed him to be devoid of all respect for himself or the memory of the dead. On Saturday last this man ended his career under the following circumstances: On Friday Hudson and one Frank Martin were engaged in playing cards in the bar-room of the Millville Hotel, and in the course of the game Hudson accused Martin of cheating, and said he had swindled him out of $250. Martin denied that he had cheated, and remarked that any man who said he did was a "d—d liar." Hudson then left the house. On the following day Hudson drank considerable liquor and tried to borrow a pistol, saying he had been imposed upon and would not stand such treatment. He was refused a weapon, but finally he and one of his friends forcibly took a pistol from a man named Glasscook. Shortly after obtaining possession of the pistol Hudson approached Martin, who was standing just outside the hotel door, and presenting the pistol within a few feet of his breast ordered him to take back what he had said. Martin immediately rushed upon Hudson and caught him around the neck, drawing his head down on his breast. After some considerable scuffling Hudson raised his pistol above his head and fired downward, with the evident intention of shooting Martin, but the ball entered his own head on the right side, and piercing the brain, lodged in the base of the skull on the left side. Before entering his head the ball cut off the thumb of Hudson's left hand, besides grazing one of Martin's arms. Hudson lived until Monday morning, when he expired, the victim of his own rashness and evil habits.

THE RAVAGES OF WAR.—It is announced that since the Act of Congress of July 16, 1862, authorizing artificial limbs to be furnished to to maimed soldiers, there have been issued 3,981 legs, 2,240 arms, 9 feet, 55 hands, and 125 surgical apparatus. The Surgeon-General estimates that 1,000 limbs remain still to be supplied. Hereafter a money value is to be given in lieu of an order on some manufacturer. The total number of wounds recorded was 133,952, and of "operations," 28,438. The Surgeons killed in battle during the war were 29; by accident, 12; died of wounds, 10; died in rebel prisons, 4; of yellow fever, 7; cholera, 3; of other diseases, 271—making a total of 335. Medical officers wounded in battle, 35; 210,027 shoddiers are recorded as discharged on certificates of disability.

THE Population of the Earth is estimated by a German statiest at 1,350,000,000, of whom 285,000,000 are in Europe, 796,600,000 in Asia, 3,850,000 in Australia and Polynesia, 188,000,000 in Africa, and 74,500,000 in America. This estimate, it is acknowledged, is only an approximation; for the statiest admits that it is impossible to arrive at anything like an accurate statement of the population of Asia and Africa, there being no census or other means of ascertaining the number of inhabitants in those portions of the globe.

IT is stated that the Chinese have recently adopted the practice of adulterating the spring-grown tea with the old and withered leaves of the previous season's yield. The effect is to destroy the flavor of the tea.

MINNEAPOLIS, by a recent census, contains 5,810 inhabitants, an increase of over 1,200 in one year.

A CHINAMAN'S funeral occurred in Carson on Sunday afternoon. The ceremony observed on the occasion, says the Appeal, is reported as a mixture of half-civilized and heathenish performances. Judging from the noise and gabble in that locality, Chinatown was a fair representation of one's idea of Pandemonium. The body being placed in a box, a Celestial roared unintelligible jargon—at least so it seemed to those not versed in the language he used—for the space of about half an hour. Then a Chinaman threw liquid about the head of the coffin and ran away as if he thought an evil spirit was in pursuit. A Chinawnoan, hired for the purpose, howled terribly. The hearse, and three carriages filled with Chinamen, composed the procession to the grave. On the route, "Josh" papers—small slips perforated as if with a knife—were distributed in the road. Arriving at the grave, the hired mourner, dressed in white, with a white cambric cap over her head and face, threw herself upon the ground and rolled and tumbled over the dump of earth thrown out of the grave, making as much dismal noise as possible. Candles were set up around the grave, and after the burial cigars were passed around, and the ceremony at that place ended in smoke. Returning to Chinatown, a table was set out containing roast and boiled pig, and affairs assumed a festive appearance. Further particulars we are not disposed to record.

CONFEDERATES IN ENGLAND.—Mr. Forney writes from London that 'John C. Breckinridge is frequently seen at the Langham Hotel, where he (Forney) is stopping, woefully changed in appearance if not in opinions.' He says that Judah P. Benjamin, who is practicing law at the London bar, does not entertain any hope of returning. He is counsel for Prioleau of Liverpool, now heavily involved in the failure of Fraser, Trenholm & Co., and also said to be the American editor of the London Telegraph, and the writer of the articles of that paper eulogistic of Jefferson Davis. George N. Sanders is sojourning in London, and has just passed through the Courts of bankruptcy. Lewis P. Wigfall of Texas is also there, engaged in collecting lists of the holders of the celebrated cotton loans of the Confederate Government and other securities.

SALLING CARRIAGE.—The St. Louis democrat describes a 'sailing carriage for the Plains.' It has two upright jib sails, and a sail on each spoke of the two wheels, one on each side of the wagon, with steering gear acting on the forward wheels, and provision for transferring the wheel sails to the opposite wheels. The inventor is Charles P. Maczowitzky, a German, who has been a sailor and has spent several years in traversing the Plains. A similar institution was once made in Illinois, at great expense, and proved an utter failure.

AUSTRALIA is progressing in wealth, and the trade of that region is rapidly growing. In 1865 the imports in the Australian colonies reached $175,000,000, and the exports $150,000,000. Within the last sixteen years, New South Wales and Victoria yielded $750,000,000 worth of gold, and New South Wales has produced 5,000,000 tons of coal. South Australia has also, within the last ten years, exported $25,000,000 worth of copper.

THERE must be considerable freedom of manners out West. A Chicago bachelor, who lives in a boarding house, wants to know how "kissing and hugging at the table can be prevented" by recently married people.

Don't Throw Stones.

It is a well known and eminently wise maxim, that "those who live in glass houses should not throw stones," and one which at the present time we may with perfect propriety commend to the consideration of the Salt Lake Polygamic Vindicator.

The constant harping of that sheet on the crimes and immoralities of our neighboring States and Territories, its persistent efforts to make them appear worse than they are, has much the appearance of a desire to act the thief's role, who, when discovered, joined the hue and cry, bawling out "stop thief," louder than the loudest.

It would be in much better taste, according to our way of looking at things, and more prudent, if the editor of that sheet refrained from any comments on the failings and conduct of the neighboring communities, until such time, at least, as it had shown some desire to aid in ferreting out and bringing to merited punishment, the authors of some of the numerous murders and midnight assassinations perpetrated from time under its very nose; crimes for which it has had no honest word of condemnation, but instead, if it has spoken at all on the subject, has attempted to palliate and excuse.

As the giving of advice appears to be in the line of the "cheek," we will try our hand at it, by advising the editor of that sheet to let time (if it is possible) somewhat dim the memory in the public mind, of our own territorial short-comings, before he pitches into those of our neighbors.

We would suggest to the sapient editor that the course he is pursuing will only tend to renew the recollection of the deeds that have blackened the escutcheon of our Territory, and which we opine, he and his ilk would rather should be forgotten than remembered.

Indian Fighters.

Under the above heading, the Reese River Reveille of October 18th has a leader, which we copy entire, giving the Government, past and present, "particular fits" for the manner in which military operations against the Red Devils have been conducted. That it is a true statement of the case, cannot be denied by any intelligent and impartial person who has given the subject the least attention.

The Salt Lake VEDETTE asks for the appointment of General Connor to the command of the forces against the Indians in place of Sherman, or in preference to any now prominent officer. The VEDETTE must know how useless it is to ask for any such appointment. If it will look over the history of the Indian wars, at least for the last twenty years it will find that whipping the savages brought ruin to the officer in charge, without fail and without exception, while he who, by cowardice, incapacity, treachery or connivance, was defeated by the Indians, or so managed as to allow them to retain the ascendency, he was the favorite with the authorities, was rapidly promoted, and could draw upon the Indian, Treasury or War Department for money and goods without limit. We could present several instances where an indiscreet, or unusually honest officer went in, in the conscientious discharge of his duty, and gave the wily and treacherous enemy a sound drubbing, and where this act was as fatal to him as to Indians slain; and again it would be an easy matter to present a hundred other cases where Indians were given every advantage, and were frontier posts were maintained only for the support of the thieving red skins and equally thieving Indian Department. So shameless and determined is the corruption of that Department that he who attempts to do his duty in a conscientious manner is treated as an enemy and suffers forever after under their displeasure. In the past twenty years, Armitage, Harney, Stuart, Chivington, Connor and Crook have successfully and honestly fought the Indians, and what have been the consequences? It is true Crook is still in command, but it is only with a handful of men, ranging from twenty to a hundred, and his field of action is somewhere up in the wilderness of the Lake country and the Blue Mountains, where little is known of his movements. This, a General officer in command of a squad, is an exception to the general rule in every particular. Connor whipped the Indians at Bear River, and forever spoilt the business of treaty making with the Shoshones. It was once thought that that was a scratch, and he who placed in command of troops on the plains, but there he started after the red devils as if he meant work, and the Government exercised greater energy in pursuing him and calling him back than it ever did in pursuit of the Indians. Connor would evidently have spoiled treaty making, and destroyed all chances of further speculations in the Indian Department. The ruinous consequences which would have attended Connor's further proceedings were foreshadowed in the results of Harney's victory at Ash Hollow. There the Sioux were terribly beaten by The-man-who-shoots-wagons, as the Indians called Harney, and for four or five years there was no treaty making. But it was the death blow to that brave and honest soldier. Since then he has been corralled at Washington, sometimes called to sit on Court-Martials, or examine trifling contracts, but he has been proven an honest officer, and—damned. Jeb. Stuart, as a Lieut. under Sumner, came near whipping the Cheyennes and Arapahoes, in spite of the orders of his superior. Sumner, with the Second Dragoons, had the opportunity of subduing forever these two allied tribes, but he allowed them to gain an advantage, and they have been the saucy enemy of the white man and extreme in their exactions ever since. Sumner was promoted and Stuart was arrested. These tribes have been at war, murdering defenceless whites during every summer since that affair. Chivington caught them at peace, that is in the winter, and killed a few, for which he was dismissed from command and censured by the authorities in the severest terms. Major Armitage, some ten years ago, whipped the strong and warlike Mohaves in a terribly bloody battle on the Colorado, and that tribe has been friendly since. But what became of Armitage? Hooker and others had commanded expeditions against the Mohaves, but after immense expenditures and losses of men and animals, enriching the Indians with the wreck of the army, had retired from the field despised by the enemy and denounced by the people These commanders have become generals. Hancock was in command in that section also, and accummulated wealth, owns ranches and mines, and toll-roads, but never harmed the Indians. Gen. Ewell, before the rebellion, was in high favor as a commander in the Indian country, and for several years was in southern Arizona. It now pleases some Democrats to hold him up as a sample of determined Indian fighters. When in command of Fort Buchannan, Apache raids were almost of weekly occurrence, and often the entire stock belonging to the post would be taken from the very parade ground of the fort, to be brought back, such as was not wanted by the Indians, and sold to the vigilant (?) commander when a treaty was made. The forts of the section were regarded by the Apaches as reliable stores of supplies for them. Of course, Ewell was in high favor as an Indian fighter. Nearly all others acted in a similar manner, and those seeking favor or promotion are encouraged to pursue the same policy. This is nothing new, nor is it chargeable specially as against the present party in power. The Democrats inaugurated the policy and the Indian Department, and encouraged its swindling transactions. The officers of the army have generally been disposed to act properly, but it has been their ruin to do so. Under the next administration, Grant's Indian affairs will be conducted differently, and then it may do to ask that such men as Connor be placed in command.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—This morning a miner was killed in the Savage mine. He fell down the shaft, from one of the lower levels, a distance of sixty feet, and was terribly mangled. He was a carman in one of the drifts, and on approaching the shaft with a car, asked a workman to give the bell-signal to lower the car to the platform. The signal was wrongly given, the car being drawn up, instead of lowered. The time having elapsed for the car to reach the station, the carman supposed all to be right, and accordingly run the car, heavily loaded, out on the platform, which broke down with the weight, and the car, load, and man fell to the bottom. The mangled remains of the miner were buried this afternoon.—Gold Hill News, 17.

IN 1865 the population of Paris was 1,863,000. of London, 3,028,000; of Vienna at 580,000; of New York, a year earlier 1,025,300. The annual ratio of increase per inhabitant, was, in Paris, 0 0 2, in other words, 100 inhabitants became 102 in the course of the year; in London 0 017; in Vienna, 0, 016; and at New York 0 046. The average number of inhahitants in a single house is, for Paris, 27; London, 9; Vienna, 54; and New York, 14; so that Vienna is the most densely peopled town of the four. From these data it appears that the increase of population at New York is equal to that of the three other towns taken together.

I. O. O. F.—We are informed by the Grand Secretary of Nevada that he has received a letter from James E. Sabine, Esq., Representative from this State to the Grand Lodge of the United States, in which he says that the non-affiliated law is extended to Nevada. The Grand Secretary informs us that the effect of this provision is that Lodges in the State of Nevada have now the authority to receive and act upon the petitions of Odd Fellows who have been suspended for non-payment of dues, and who have not been under suspension for less than three years.—Trespass

NEW GULCHES.—The Helena papers speak in glowing terms of the new diggings lately discovered in Deer Lodge and Edgerton counties They report them as paying big, and the rush has assumed the proportions of a stampede.

San Francisco, October 17.

The result of the judicial election in the State is not yet known. The returns at hand indicate that the total vote was about 90,000, and that the Democratic majorities have been considerably reduced since September, and that the vote for Supreme Judge and Superintendent of Public instruction is very close between the Union and Democratic parties. The total number of votes in San Francisco county was 13,831. Sprague's majority, 1,467; Fitzgerald's, 1,095 The Democratic county ticket is elected by the following majorities: McKinstry, County Judge, 1,178; Wright, Probate Judge, 1,709; Provines, Police Judge, 1,249.

Supervisor Reynolds and others concerned in the Mission squatter riots were before the Police Court to-day. The charge of murder was withdrawn, and that of manslaughter substituted. Their bail bonds were fixed at $10,000 each.

Eben Guptil, convicted of manslaughter on the high seas was to-day sentenced to 3 years' imprisonment.

The motion for a new trial in the case of McCall against Gen. McDowell, for alleged imprisonment, is on argument this morning before the Judges in the U. S. Circuit Court.

The receipts of treasure from the interior of the State and Nevada for the past ten days aggregate about $1,000,000, and from the north coast $130,000.

The shipments of treasure for the past ten days aggregate nearly $2,000,000, including $1,110,000 to Asia per steamer China.

Private telegrams quote gold at 143½, and sterling at 209@109½ in New York this morning.

San Francisco, October 18.

Susan Quin died yesterday under suspicious circumstances. The deceased and sister lately arrived from Sacramento, where they had been residing several months. Both women were of dissipated habits. When the physician called in he found the deceased suffering from severe bruises and was informed she had fallen down stairs. When the Coroner called the sister of deceased said the bruises were inflicted by the man Quin, who was living with her for the past year, during a quarrel. Dr. Newell, who attended deceased, says she died of apoplexy. The Coroner will hold a post mortem examination to-day.

At the election of officers of the California Guards, yesterday, Sam'l Brannan was elected captain.

Thomas and Edward Newman, partners in the wood and willow ware business, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. Their liabilities are $34,000.

The Pacific woolen mills filed a certificate of incorporation yesterday, with a capital of $400,000. The object is the manufacture and sale of woolen and mixed goods, principally knit.

FROM the Denver News of October 15th, we gather the following items:

During the fair, which has absorbed every one's attention in Denver, the editors have come and gone. Omaha received them most happily, and extended to them a hearty welcome and a most generous entertainment. The anxiety of the party to reach Denver was exhibited in the telegrams which were published, and was appreciated by our citizens. To procure transportation, however, was an impossibility. Wells, Fargo & Co., could not do it. And to go with private teams would involve a consumption of time and an expenditure of money not to be thought of. By private teams it would have taken not less than two weeks to get them here. Having gone to the end of the track, the party have turned homeward. We learn, however, that about twenty-five of the party have gone on to Cheyenne, and will arrive here to-morrow.

We learn that the receipts of the late fair were about $3,500. The number of entries was between two hundred and seventy-five and three hundred. The society has been enabled not only to meet the expenses of this year, but to pay off about $1,000 of last year's debts.

A man by the name of Bernard Duffy accidentally shot himself in the foot this morning at the Elephant House. The ball passed through his instep and lodged in the ball of his foot, whence it was cut out by Dr. Bancroft.

FROM the Montana Post, we gather the following:

NEW CHURCH.—Workmen are engaged in building the new Methodist Church, on Idaho street; nearly opposite the Executive Mansion.

CHEYENNE.—During the week large numbers left for this new city in Dacota. It is thought Cheyenne will depopulate Denver.

Gov. Pollinger is in the city, and is rubbing the dust off of his garments by the refinements of city life. It is an excellent plan for gentlemen of the country to adopt. Hair dressers and venders of paper collars profited largely by the Gov.'s late visit.

MASONIC.—Gov. Green Clay Smith is to be the orator of the day at the installation of the officers of the Grand Lodge at the Masonic Temple, on the 10th inst.

Judge Hosmer is the orator of the day for the dedication of the Temple on the 12th.

GALLATIN.—Thomas R. Edwards, Esq., formerly City Treasurer of Virginia, has located at Gallatin City, with a view of practicing law, in partnership with Judge Street.

THE Milwaukee Sentinel, of Oct. 12, says:

"Formal charges have been filed with Postmaster General Randall against Wells, Fargo & Co., for gross violation of contract and neglect in the transmission of mails on the Overland Route. Affidavits in possession of the Department charge that bags of mail matter are thrown out on the prairie and left to rot, whenever the character of the road renders a reduction of the load necessary. Complaints have also reached Washington from California against the company, for similar abuses of mails in the interior sections of that State. It appears that Wells, Fargo & Co. have widespread arrangements for carrying mails on their own account, charging for a stamp of their own in addition to the Government stamp, and that they also have contracts for carrying the regular mails. This of itself offers great inducement to neglect the regular mail and even to abandon it, which it is charged is frequently done in the mountain district. These alleged abuses will probably be fully investigated now, and the matter submitted to Congress for its immediate action.

THE Montana Post of October 15th, has the following items from Bozeman:

A party of ten men composed of ex-soldiers and civilians, left the Yellowstone Canyon in a mackinaw, on Sunday, for the States. Captain Husted was one of the party.

The contracts awarded at Fort Ellis were given to the following parties: E. W. Simms, Helena, 200 tons hay, at $33,62½; Hugh Kirkendall, Virginia, wood contract at $6,80 per cord; John Ault, Bozeman, lumber, $60 per M; E. W. Simms, Helena, beef, 12¾ cents per pound Two large storehouses and comfortable quarters are being erected at the Fort. A work is being built for the artillery, and a good stockade will enclose the camp. There are about 300 regulars at the camp under command of Capt. Lamotte.

The reported hanging of Hughes and Jack was a canard.

No trace has yet been found of the murderers of Davidson.

IN WHAT?—"I would not marry an Eastern man if I had to live an old maid all the days of my life?" exclaimed a buxom country lass. "Why not?" demanded her astonished companions. "Because every paper you pick up, contains an account of the failure of the Eastern mails."

MAGNETIC.—Still no dispatches. Wires have taken a fit.

CORRESPONDENCE.—We have received another letter from our correspondent "Mac," dated at Green River, to late, however, for insertion to-day. It will appear to-morrow.

PROVESSIONAL.—The "wet nurse" of the of the cheeky sheet advertises in his local column to cure teething and tooth-ache pains in babies. Nothing like being "up" in one's profession.

DISCHARGED.—The young man arrested a few days since on a charge of abduction, was brought before Judge Titus yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, and, after a hearing of the case by his honor, was discharged.

THE EXCURSIONISTS.—A party of the railroad excurtionists have arrivee at Cheyenne, and are receiving unbounded hospitalities at the hands of the denizens of that city. We will publish tomorrow a synopsis of the "doings" there.

REVERE.—This house does not bring its boarders to time with gong or bell. Such common place accessories are not needed to bring the patrons regularly to partake of the luxuries always spread upon the loaded tables of the Revere.

LAZINESS.—Every craft has its lazy members, and printers are no exception. This morning our devil was so lazy he would not go to work, so we went to J. Baumans & Co.'s and got one of their Citrate Magnesia Powders and made the young imp swallow the compound. It had the desired effect, and he has attended diligently to his business ever since.

WARM SPRING BATHS.—We would suggest the the proprietor, or those having charge of the Warm Spring Baths that they might be pecuniarily benefited if they would make some arrangements by which strangers and others would not be obliged to wait an hour or so out in the cold while his high mighteness was occupying "solus" the swimming bath. Build one for his exclusive use, or for that of the public, and remedy the evil and annoyance complained of.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Last night some persons passing near the Townsend House stumbled over the body of Joseph Green, a deaf and dumb boy, aged 19 years, recently in the employ of Mr. Taylor of 1st East Temple street. Green had been ill of consumption, and it is conjectured from the appearance of the body when found, that he must have been seized with a fit of coughing and ruptured a blood vessel expiring almost immediately. The Coroner will probably hold an inquest on the body to-day.

FROM THE SALMON RIVER MINES.—Paul Engelbrecht, Esq., arrived last evening per northern stage direct from the Salmon mines, and reports favorably of the prospects of that semi-arctic mining region. He says that new and good claims are constantly being found, and that by next season they will have a lively camp there. There are a large number of claims that will pay from eight to twenty dollars per hand as soon as water is brought on to work them. From 500 to 600 miners will winter there.

DIGEST THIS.—The proletarian thing-embob of the polygamic Telegraph will do well to let this slide easily down his esophagus. It is from the Montana Post:

FOR VALUE RECEIVED.—The highly cultured exquisite who does up the rose water second theatrical critique for the Salt Lake Teleyraph, very courteously, and with that infinite grace so characteristic of the man, pleasantly informs us that we are "most unreasonable," "grossly ignorant," and uses "insinuations not of the character that should be expected from the pen of a gentleman." The first we would belie if we should admit; the second, if a self-evident fact, is a superflous assertion, and for a pen we use a goose quill. Are you short a feather? After reading us a very exhaustible lecture upon theatrical merit, which we would not acknowledge correct if we believed, because we are "most unreasonable," and wasting argumant upon one so "grossly ignorant." We were slightly surprised to see at the head of the same columns the following rather vulgar, illiterate, and stupid notice of the prospective performance at the Polygamic play house in Salt Lake, reminding one of the style of Bishop Woolley's sermons: "This evening Amy Stone will appear as Capitola Black; in the celebrated drama of the Hidden Hand. It is a fine play, with lots of songs and dances, grand nigger walk around, by Ameturs and the whole company"

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES. NEW REMEDIES.

Dr. Gibbons' Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any other injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rushing of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, nightsweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use.
